SEE Law Journal Call for Papers - September 2018

The South East European Law School Network is glad to announce the Call for Papers for the new edition of the SEE Law Journal.

The South East European Law Journal (SEE Law Journal) is a scientific English language journal of the South East European Law School Network (SEELS). The SEE Law Journal publishes high-quality original, double peer-reviewed scientific, review and professional articles focusing on relevant questions of regional, European and international integration of SEE countries, issues of legal reform and approximation with the acquis communautaire, best practices, in legal reform and unification of the legislation in the region of South East Europe and the EU.

The new editions will be published within the frames of the Strengthening the Legal Studies in SEE project that aims to to advance and promote the exchange of knowledge and views on the development of the legal systems in South Eastern Europe (SEE) in accordance with EU law. We expect that these editions will stimulate the EU law research and will further explore relevant national legal issues in an effort to provide deeper insight in the legislative requirements for the current legal developments both in EU and the region. This project is financially supported by Erasmus + Jean Monnet Activities Programme of the EU.

We cordially invite you to submit your contributions for the SEE Law Journal. The SEE Law Journal is open for submission of articles prepared by at least one academic staff member and junior researchers (PhD students) of the SEELS members. The authorship is restricted to maximum three co-authors per article.

For further instructions please see the Guidelines for Authors available on the projects site. Papers should be submitted in English language via the projects web platform www.seelawjournal.org. Please note that you need to be registered on our web platform in order to be able to submit your paper.

The submission deadline for this edition is Sunday, 23rd of September 2018.
