Rijeka lectures in comparative law

A scientific community forum bringing speakers from around the world to discuss current developments in comparative law.

Karlyn Dana
Stanley, J.D.

10 October 2024, 14 h, Doctoral Room
Road Vehicle Automation: The Legal and Policy Road Ahead

Karlyn Stanley is a lawyer focused on technology, including building and leading technology-focused legal practices for two international companies and a national law firm, handling high-profile regulatory litigation as a senior lawyer at AT&T, and prosecuting white-collar crime as a Trial Attorney at the U.S. Department of Justice. She is currently leading a RAND project on AI Governance issues that will provide concise briefs on key issues to Congressional staff members on Capitol Hill. She is the lead author of a 2020 RAND study of the impact of autonomous vehicles on automobile insurance. She recently completed a RAND comparative study of legal regimes for AVs.

This lecture is also supported by the UNIRI project Transparency and Fairness in the Digital Environment (uniri-iskusni-drustv-23-101) and the Institute of European and Comparative Law.
